A New Approach To Athletics At Millsaps

In the winter of 1959-60 the athletic staff, along with the Faculty Committee on Athletics, reaffirmed its belief that the Millsaps approach to small college athletics is the most practical program in operation among liberal arts colleges in the South (and perhaps in the nation) today. The athletic policy of Millsaps College is based on the premise that athletics exist for the benefit of the students and not primarily to enhance the prestige and publicity of the college. The cornerstone of this policy is the purely amateur basis on which the athletic program is conducted.

In appraising the job of making the Millsaps athletic plan work, the staff designated two problems that need immediate attention:

1. Adoption of realistic schedules in all sports, with the prime idea of equalizing competition with our own capabilities.
2. Attraction of enough student-athletes capable of participating in small college sports and, at the same time, benefiting from the caliber of education they will receive at Millsaps.

We can have the schedule we want inside of three years (by 1962, that is). Since most football contracts run for two years, all of our existing contracts will be up for review either this year or next. Basketball contracts are reviewed annually, and the 1960-61 roundball schedule will probably be the basic schedule for years to come, with minor revisions from time to time.

Recruiting

We can recruit athletes for Millsaps College. There are many selling points to attract athletes to Millsaps, and these will be outlined later. But first we must point out what we consider necessary criteria for the successful student-athlete at Millsaps:

1. Does he have academic promise? This is not based entirely on high school grades. Entrance exams, standardized tests, and recommendations from school officials all go into deciding a prospective student's academic promise.

2. Does he love athletics for athletics' sake? If the prospective student-athlete cannot gain educationally from participation in sports, he should not be encouraged to report for varsity competition.

3. Has he a financial plan that will carry him through college with a minimum of distraction? Unfortunately, it costs money to attend Millsaps College. But there is abundant aid for the good student who has a bona fide financial need. Athletes, too, can get a share of this aid if they are capable students who need financial assistance.

What We Have Done

The athletic staff, in cooperation with the Public Relations Department, has established a student-athlete contact program for the purpose of reaching those boys who meet the requirements listed above.

1. A letter outlining opportunities for good athletes who are also good students was sent to the academic deans and athletic directors in 37 area junior colleges. The response was gratifying. We are encouraged to believe that this was the thing to do, so we plan to write the colleges earlier next year and in more detail.

2. A similar letter was sent to the counselors and athletic directors in over 200 Mississippi high schools. Again the response was gratifying, though not as complete as we had expected. We are again encouraged, and will write the high schools earlier next year.

3. From the letters mentioned above we received more than 130 names of boys who were better-than-average student-athletes. Every one of these boys was written a personal letter by the athletic staff, and the Public Relations Department sent catalogs, application forms, and miscellaneous information. This process is still going on, and will be continued throughout the year.

4. Personal follow-up letters with return post cards helped eliminate the names of boys who are not going to college and those who have definitely decided to attend a college other than Millsaps. The remainder are the ones we are developing.

5. Throughout the year Coach "Erm" Smith has been visiting prospects all over the state. He will continue to do this in the summer, as much as his teaching load will permit. Coach Jim Montgomery, working full-time for the College this summer, will visit prospective student-athletes and other potential Millsaps students.

What You Can Do

We are not reaching a large number of prospective student-athletes simply because we do not know who they are. Our new contact system will eventually put us in touch with most of the promising students in the area junior colleges and Mississippi high schools, but in the meantime our alumni athletes can lend us a hand. Here's how:

They Direct Program

From the left, coaches Montgomery and Smith and student assistants.

A New Approach . . .

1. Write us about any prospective student-athlete you know personally whom you think we should contact. Please send his full name and address.

2. Talk with your local educators about boys in their schools. Send along to us any names they give you; then, if possible, see or call the prospective student-athlete and talk with him about Millsaps. We are interested in high school juniors for our future lists.

3. Look over prospects in your local church. This could be a fertile field, especially for Methodists. Religious affiliation, however, should have no bearing on our recruitment efforts. Good students who are also good athletes are desired regardless of denomination.

Sell Millsaps

In talking to prospective student-athletes, you should keep several points in mind:

At Millsaps the student-athlete can participate, entirely free from the pressures usually associated with college athletics, in the athletic program while obtaining an education second to none in this area.

Millsaps College is:

- a church-related college
- a small college
- a coeducational college
- a liberal arts college

Millsaps College

- offers professional and pre-professional training
- selects its students carefully
- has a cosmopolitan student body
- is ideally located
- is fully accredited

Your assistance in the important task of seeking out and enrolling the Millsaps-type athlete is urgently needed. Please let us hear from you if you have any information on prospective student-athletes.

Athletic Policy

The entire athletic program is under the supervision of the Faculty Committee on Athletics. Specific policies are as follows:

A. Intercollegiate Athletics

1. The program for men includes football, basketball, baseball, tennis, and a limited program in golf. There is no intercollegiate program for women.
2. The program is conducted on a purely amateur basis. This means specifically:
 - a. No athletic scholarships are given, and athletes are not subsidized in any way.
 - b. There is no discrimination for or against athletes in the awarding of scholarships and other regular financial aid given by the college to worthy students as described in the college catalog.
 - c. All such aid is administered by the Faculty Awards Committee. Athletic ability is not a factor in such awards, and no one is granted or denied aid because of athletic ability or participation.
 - d. No student is required to participate in athletics as a condition for receiving or retaining any scholarship or other financial aid.
 - e. No student who takes pay from any source or in any form for participation in intercollegiate athletics is eligible.
 - f. No student who has participated in organized professional sports is eligible.
 - g. No student may participate for more than four seasons in any sport, including participation in junior colleges or other senior colleges which the student may have attended.
3. Only regularly enrolled full-time students are eligible for intercollegiate competition.
4. Those who participate in intercollegiate athletics are required to observe and maintain the same academic standards as other students.
5. In scheduling games, preference is given first to members of the athletic conference to which Millsaps belongs, and second to other colleges that conduct an athletic program on an amateur basis similar to that at Millsaps. When necessary to secure an adequate schedule, games are played with schools that operate a subsidized program on a frank and open basis. Games are not scheduled with schools that attempt to conceal subsidization of athletics while professing amateurism.

Football Schedule

After playing a full slate of nine games in 1959, "Erm" Smith's Majors are back down to the traditional seven-game schedule for 1960. However, negotiations are underway to fill the October 8 date with either College of the Ozarks or Central College, of Fayette, Missouri. Long-range scheduling has landed Maryville (Tennessee) College on the 1961 schedule, replacing Howard (Alabama) College, which has gone to a completely subsidized athletic program and which will complete its contract this season.

Newcomers to the Majors' 1960 slate are Harding College, of Searcy, Arkansas, and the University of Tennessee, Martin Branch, of Martin, Tennessee. These opponents replaced Conway (Arkansas) State and Henderson (Arkansas) State, teams which have grown too strong for equal competition with the amateur Methodists.

Missing from this year's schedule is the familiar name of Ouachita Baptist College, of Arkadelphia, Arkansas. The addition of new members to the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference prevented both Ouachita and Hendrix College, of Conway, Arkansas, from appearing on the '60 schedule. Athletic authorities of both Arkansas colleges express hope that their school will again meet the Majors in 1961. The schedule is as follows:

- Sept. 17 ----- Harding College
at Jackson, Miss.
- Sept. 24 ----- Southwestern
at Jackson, Miss.
- Oct. 1 ----- Univ. of the South
at Sewanee, Tenn.
- Oct. 8 ----- To be filled
- Oct. 15 ----- Howard College
at Jackson, Miss.
- Oct. 22 ----- Univ. Tenn. (Martin Br.)
at Martin, Tenn.
- Oct. 29 ----- Livingston (Ala.) State at Livingston, Ala.
- Nov. 5 ----- Austin College
at Jackson, Miss.

1960-61 Basketball

Finding that the 26-game basketball schedule of 1959-60 left too little time for study, Coach Jim Montgomery has released a revised 1960-61 schedule listing 19 games. Included in this schedule is a two-game tournament at the end of the season in Montgomery, Alabama, involving Howard College, Birmingham-Southern College, Huntingdon College, and Millsaps.

The only completely new addition to the 1960-61 schedule is Belmont College, of Nashville, Tennessee. This Baptist school is a member of the strong Volunteer State Athletic Conference. One game has been arranged with Belmont for the coming season, but a home and home schedule is planned for future years.

Following the lead of football, the basketball schedule is almost devoid of state colleges and colleges that grant out-and-out athletic scholarships. Coach Montgomery indicates that this schedule is one that his Majors can play with strong prospects of breaking even or better. The schedule follows:

- Dec. 2 ----- Birmingham-Southern College
Birmingham, Ala.
- Dec. 3 ----- Howard College
Birmingham, Ala.

"M" Club and You

The newly reorganized "M" Club adopted a new constitution on April 21, 1960. The preamble of the constitution reads, "It shall be the purpose of the 'M' Club of Millsaps College to further and promote athletics at Millsaps College; to work with other college organizations in promoting selected college activities (Homecoming, etc.); to afford lettermen an opportunity to have a voice in the extension of the college athletic program; to promote comradeship of athletes, to foster good sportsmanship, and to encourage the development of a proper school spirit among all the students of the College; to act as a source of encouragement and exhortation to all athletes in all sports; and to act as a center of discipline at all times."

If you are a letterman but have never been initiated into the "M" Club, we want to know about it. A special initiation is being planned on Homecoming Day for all alumni-athletes who have missed out on this honor. So drop us a line if you are eligible for this initiation.

Site for Home Games

If Hinds County voters approve a bond issue for the renovation of Hinds County Memorial Stadium, the Majors will have to take their 1960 home football games elsewhere. If the voters say "yes," construction will begin in June on the stadium, which will make it unfit for play in 1960. Coach "Erm" Smith has made arrangements to use Newell Field, the city high school stadium located across North State Street from the Millsaps campus.

However, unless this year's arrangements are different from previous years when the Majors used the stadium, there will be no dressing rooms available for either Millsaps or the visiting team. Coach Smith is working to solve this problem.

The athletic staff has been tentatively exploring the possibility of holding one or more games on our own Alumni Field. The staff feels that one advantage to be gained from this would be the concentration of our supporters in a smaller area. In recent years they have been almost lost in the vastness of Hinds County Memorial Stadium.

Three Men Honored

Larry Maret, versatile senior from Sardis, by way of Northwest Junior College, had the unique honor of being named by his teammates Most Valuable Player in both football and basketball. Starting quarterback for the past two seasons, Maret was presented the H. T. Newell Award for the Most Valuable Player on the 1959 football squad at the annual football banquet in November.

On Honors Day in May, Marett was awarded the "M" Club trophy for being voted by his teammates the Most Valuable Player on the 1959-60 basketball squad. The premed student was in strong competition for the Most Improved Player trophy in basketball.

Diminutive guard Charles Wallace was the recipient of the first annual "M" Club award for the Most Improved Player on the 1959-60 basketball squad. Wallace, a junior, was voted the honor by his teammates, who chose him over worthy candidates Larry Marett and Jimmy Underwood. Charles is a native of Jackson. He attended both Central and Murrah high schools and is the son of Dr. E. S. Wallace of the Millsaps faculty.

End Joe Whitwell, Senatobia junior, was voted the Most Improved Player on the 1959 football team by his fellow squad members. Whitwell was presented a trophy for this achievement at the annual "M" Club football banquet in November.

The 170-pound wingman was also selected by the Williamson Ratings of the UPI to the Honorable Mention List of the Little All-American Football Team for 1959. Whitwell's pass-receiving and scoring ability was a prime factor in his selection to the All-American team.

Resume of 1959-60

One year's results do not indicate a trend — so say the experts — but the members of the Millsaps coaching staff have hopes that they have started an upward trend in all sports on Methodist Hill.

Under Head Coach Marvin G. "Erm" Smith and Assistant Coaches Jim Montgomery and James Hood, the Majors upped their win record in football to two, topping 1958's record of one win and one tie. Lack of size and experienced depth prevented the scrappy Majors from tallying a few more wins.

Biggest disappointment: the 6-7 loss to Southwestern in the season's opener at Memphis. Biggest surprises: the all-round good play of freshman Matt Lauter (guard, 170, West Point), Wayland "Buster" Clifton (center, 155, Kosciusko), and Clyde Allen (fullback, 160, Clarksdale).

Jim Montgomery's roundballers produced five wins, two more than the 1958-59 Majors had been able to muster. Three of the wins were over top opponents: Southwestern, Birmingham-Southern, and Sewanee. Biggest disappointment: the inability of Harry Strauss, Don Williamson, and Larry Marett to play in all games. Biggest surprise: the win over Sewanee on the road after being mauled by the Mountain Tigers the night before.

The baseball team was the "hard luck" crew on Methodist Hill in 1960. "Erm" Smith's boys, short on pitching, lost several games in late innings by one or two runs. The three wins chalked up represent an increase over 1959's two wins. Encouraging is the fact that Allen Phillips, sophomore right-hander from Southington, Ohio, will return, since he was the winning pitcher in all three victories. Losses by graduation include veteran outfielder Don Thompson; second baseman John Ray; catcher Harvey Ray; and pitcher Larry Marett.

The 1960 tennis team tallied four wins and a fifth place berth in the State Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament. This represented the best winning effort in three years for the Major netmen. Steve Meisburg, Jackson freshman, furnished the steam for most of the wins and provided a great deal of the punch Millsaps showed in its losing efforts. Losses by graduation from this year's squad include Wayne Sherman, Vicksburg; Charles Walker, Laurel; and Blake Harrison, Raymond.

Sixty-three different men took part in four varsity sports during the 1959-60 school year. Many of these men did double duty in two sports. Three men were three-sports players: Larry Marett, senior from Sardis; Allen Phillips, sophomore from Southington, Ohio; and Eldridge Rogers, sophomore from Hopkinsville, Kentucky.

About the Photographs

1. The Union Building is the focal point of student activity. It is there that the students put to good advantage their out-of-class hours—making friends, relaxing, working on student publications and government.
2. Whitworth Hall is one of twelve housing units on the campus. College policy limits enrollment, assuring students of comfortable living accommodations as well as superior instruction.
3. Students study in air-conditioned comfort and attractive surroundings in the Millsaps-Wilson Library. Considered one of the best equipped small college libraries, it has a capacity of more than 80,000 volumes.
4. Sullivan-Harrell Science Hall houses classrooms and laboratories for the Natural Sciences Division. The division has received a three-year, $34,065 National Science Foundation grant for an undergraduate research training program.
5. Millsaps students use the latest in electronic equipment to study foreign languages in the modern language laboratory, which enables them to learn more rapidly and with better pronunciation and to place individual emphasis on special problems.
6. A student scientist describes research which was done under the auspices of a National Science Foundation grant. All three students are now in graduate school.
7. Millsaps has one of the nation's best premedical courses. The percentage of Millsaps students accepted by leading medical and dental schools is very high.
8. Recognition for outstanding work comes on Tap Day, when honor societies select new members on the basis of academic excellence and contributions in the particular fields the honoraries emphasize.

Results of Recruitment Effort Encouraging

The administration and the faculty of Millsaps College are convinced that the majority of the alumni of the College are in sympathy with the effort now underway to strengthen the inter-collegiate athletic program within the framework of a policy of non-subsidization.

Last May an issue of the Millsaps College Bulletin outlined these efforts, revealed the attitude of the Faculty Committee on Athletics toward the problem, and called upon alumni for assistance in implementing the stepped-up program which is being promoted by the Department of Athletics.

Major features of the "big push" are the following:

- (1) Adoption of realistic schedules in all sports to equalize competition with the team's own capabilities.
- (2) Attraction of enough student-athletes capable of participating in small college sports and, at the same time, benefiting from the kind of education they will receive at Millsaps.

Since the last general report on the project, Coaches Marvin G. Smith and James A. Montgomery have devoted a considerable amount of time to the initial phases of what should be a most successful program. A report on these beginning efforts follows.

Ambitious Program

The new system of identifying and contacting student-athletes for Millsaps College was, in effect, a "broadside" directed at those people who could best help in reaching the men who fit into the Millsaps athletic program. The timing of the program was late, but this detail will be corrected this year.

Letters were sent to athletic directors and academic deans of 37 area junior colleges. These letters outlined our program and asked the junior college officials to help us identify the student-athletes we were seeking. Results from this letter were negligible, but promises of future help were encouraging.

A letter similar to the one mentioned above was sent to each athletic director and counselor at 280 Mississippi high schools. A large number replied and 140 prospective student-athletes were identified. Personal letters were sent to these students. This was followed by another letter to those who had not responded to previous correspondence. Special letters were sent to 50 men who had made application but were not on our correspondence lists.

More than 900 Millsaps College bulletins were sent to alumni-athletes in which an appeal was made to the individual alumnus for his active assistance in identifying good athletes. Names suggested by alumni-athletes were largely duplicates of names already in hand. Correspondence received indicated that this bulletin was well received.

Letters were sent to about 900 of the 1959-60 Millsaps student body. Correspondence and conversations with students produced only a few names, but a great deal of interest was expressed by those who replied.

Every minister in Mississippi Methodism was sent a letter similar to the ones prepared for high school officials. We had quite a few replies, but again the names were mostly duplicates of those already in hand.

In addition to the above, 580 letters were written about prospects and to prospects. Some 30 men were visited in their homes; 22 came to the campus at our invitation.

The athletic staff justifiably feels that it can claim whole or partial credit for the recruitment of 20 new football players and for 6 new basketball players. The 20 men out for the football squad, almost to a man, are the type Millsaps College is trying to attract. They are fundamentally sound students, fair-to-good football players and have their financial problems under control.

The new men in basketball fit the pattern we are trying to establish for student-athletes at Millsaps College. All of these men will probably remain with us throughout their college careers.

Our method of recruiting student athletes appears to be sound after one year's use. There is no denying, however, that Millsaps alumni must give more support to our efforts in the future if this program is to develop as it should. The Athletic Department and the Public Relations Department intend to exploit the system to its fullest extent.

What Alumni-Athletes Can Do

We are not reaching a large number of prospective student-athletes simply because we do not know who they are. Our new contact system will eventually put us in touch with most of the promising students in the area junior colleges and Mississippi high schools, but in the meantime our alumni athletes can lend us a hand. Here's how:

1. Write us about any prospective student-athlete you know personally who you think we should contact. Please send his full name and address.
2. Talk with your local educators about boys in their schools. Send along to us any names they give you; then, if possible, see or call the prospective student-athlete and talk with him about Millsaps. We are interested in high school juniors for our future lists.
3. Look over prospects in your local church. This could be a fertile field, especially for Methodists. Religious affiliation, however, should have no bearing on our recruitment efforts. Good students who are also good athletes are desired regardless of denomination.

In talking to prospective student-athletes, you should keep several points in mind:

At Millsaps the student-athlete can participate, entirely free from the pressures usually associated with college athletics, in the athletic program while

Football Reviewed

While results of the 1960 Football season fell short of expectations, there is cause for optimism about the future.

Key factor in the less than impressive 1-1-6 season was the situation at the quarterback position—one made to order for producing king-size ulcers among the members of the coaching staff. Out of four candidates for the quarterback position, not one had any previous college experience. So the Majors had to “grow their own.” Led by Pat Barrett, Lexington, and Don Mitchell, Cleveland, the four freshmen made encouraging progress and showed great promise for future competence.

Bright spots on the 1960 record were the 3 to 0 victory over Southwestern, a 6 to 6 tie with Harding College, and a fine performance against highly regarded Austin College and the nation's Number 2 small college passer, Austin quarterback Bo Miller. Losses to heavily subsidized Howard, the University of Tennessee (Martin Branch) and Livingston State were regretted but were no surprises. Defeats at the hands of Sewanee and Maryville were the season's biggest disappointments.

If bowl bids are to be considered “good things,” then an old saying about their arrival in pairs was validated on the Methodist Hill. Not one, but two invitations to play in post season bowl games were received by the Majors. A bid extended by Stuttgart, Arkansas', Rice Bowl officials to meet Henderson State College came just a day or so after Head Coach Marvin G. Smith had accepted an invitation to play Maryville College in the first annual Space Bowl in Huntsville, Alabama.

Despite leading by substantial margins in first downs, yards gained rushing, yards gained passing, and pass interceptions, Millsaps lost to the Scot-ties 19 to 0.

Looking ahead to the 1961 season, the coaching staff is encouraged by what it sees.

Because of the vigorous recruiting campaign inaugurated last summer the returnee situation is the best it has been in many years. Out of 40 men on the roster at the end of the season, only 8 graduate, and 20 will be sophomores. Last year at the same time 29 men remained on the roster. Only 9 of this number were freshmen. It is reasonable to expect recruiting for 1961 to be as successful, if not more so, than last year. So prospects for a larger squad are excellent.

This year's squad is probably the sharpest academically in many years. Many of the new men were among the top scorers in entrance examinations. Alumni will recall the difficulty some students have in keeping up scholastically. The classroom performance of this year's gridsters seems to indicate that losses from “flunk outs” will be at a minimum.

Other encouraging signs are the fact that top honors awarded at the annual football banquet went to freshmen, and all four quarterbacks are slated to return—for three more years!

Coaches Encouraged

Perhaps the most important reasons for the optimism on the part of Millsaps coaches are the moves made this year in scheduling and recruiting.

The difficulty experienced by the College in scheduling games with teams adhering to similar standards regarding subsidization of athletes is well known. With the demise of the Dixie Conference, several of Millsaps' long time opponents felt it necessary to follow the lead of other schools and employ scholarship offers to spur recruiting. Millsaps held the line—no discrimination for or against athletes in the matter of financial aid. The results in recent years have been less than desirable as far as scores are concerned.

Next year, for the first time in several years, every college on the Majors' schedule, except one, will either be totally non-subsidized or not far from it. Howard and the University of Tennessee (Martin Branch) will be replaced by Maryville (Tennessee) and College of the Ozarks (Arkansas), two Presbyterian schools.

As scheduling improves, the coaching staff expects the new recruiting program to be yielding big dividends. The combination can only mean better days for the “studies first and athletics second” Majors.

Freshmen Outstanding

History was made this fall at the annual football banquet held in honor of the 1960 Majors gridsters. For the first time in recent memory, the two top awards went to freshmen.

Melvyn Smith, freshman guard, received the Harvey T. Newell Award given annually to the player considered the most valuable on and off the field. Smith, a graduate of Vicksburg's H. V. Cooper High School, is an outstanding scholar as well as a top-flight lineman.

Named the player showing the most improvement over early season performance was Newton Reynolds, Charleston, South Carolina, fullback. The hard charging freshman back averaged ten yards per carry.

Letters were awarded to 32 men and tackle Wooky Gray, halfback Ryan Grayson and end Joe Whitwell received sports coats in recognition of their four years of service as lettermen on the Millsaps football team.

A special salute was given the eight seniors who had played their last game for the College. Receiving the prolonged applause of guests and teammates were tackles Wooky Gray, Ray Ridgeway, and John Woods; halfbacks Ryan Grayson, Reuben Houston, and Ed Redding; guard Bill Crosby, and end Joe Whitwell.

A note of nostalgia was struck when former Head Coach Doby Bartling, an all time favorite with Millsaps students and alumni, served as master of ceremonies. Guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. William K. Barnes, 1928, who represented the Harvey Newell family.

Basketball Is Here

Ten lettermen from the 1959-60 campaign were among the 24 varsity basketball aspirants to report to informal drills October 15. One letterman from the year before, Harry Strauss, appeared ready and able to go full time this season, after being able to play only four games last year due to a difficult schedule.

Two junior college lettermen were on hand to bolster the 1960 edition of the Majors. Jim Lane, a native of Clinton, comes back home after a stay at Columbus (Ga.) Community College. George Dale, Prentiss, put in many minutes with Pearl River Junior College the past two years.

The freshmen, five in all, are headed by All-Stater Charles Smith of Murfreesboro, Tennessee. Smith, 6-2, was captain of Tennessee's third-best team last year which compiled a 34-1 record. Phil Converse, Jackson St. Joseph product, Forrest Goodwin, Tylertown, Warren Jones, Forest, and Gene Ainsworth, Florence, round out the frosh members of the team.

Non-lettermen, other than freshmen, who are out for the team are: Morris Thigpen and Tommy O'Neil transfers from Meridian Junior College; Jamie Arrington and James R. Dumas, squadmen from last year; Steve Meisberg, 1960 tennis ace; and Dick McMurray, a leader in intramural basketball last year.

The squad breakdown, by classes, shows five freshmen, five sophomores, eight juniors and six seniors.

Van Hook's Day

If there was ever "a day for remembering" for ex-athletes, it was Homecoming at Millsaps, October 15. That was the day set for the reunion of the men who had participated in varsity athletics under Coach B. O. Van Hook's tutelage. It was "Coach Van's day."

The reunion, planned by an enthusiastic committee chaired by Frank Loflin, 1937, was a great success. They came from all over Mississippi and many out-of-state locations. They brought wives, children, friends to honor a man they held in highest esteem. Many who could not come wired or wrote.

At 3 p.m., reunion time, Buie Gymnasium rang with the sounds of greetings and "happy talk." When order was restored, Dr. M. C. White, for many years chairman of the Athletic Committee, served as master of ceremonies, taking the big crowd of alumni back to their days on the campus, as only Dr. White can do. There were tall tales of exploits on the athletic field, shared memories of hilarious events, and information-swapping on current activities of individuals. They sat in every available chair and stood around the walls of what used to be the Grill. Many who were not athletes but who wanted to be a part of the salute to Coach Van Hook came to the afternoon reunion.

Climax of the day for the athletes came at the Homecoming Banquet when they were recognized and Coach Van Hook was honored. Frank Loflin was at his best when he spoke sincerely about the days when "Coach Van" directed the destinies of the Millsaps athletic teams, made the presentation of a gift from "the boys" to their coach, and praised the man for what he had meant to so many. A standing ovation followed.

Coach Van Hook replied with gratitude and deep feeling. It was, indeed, a good day and one for remembering.

We Nominate Marett

Perhaps you recall the recognition received earlier this fall by Bob Scholoredt, the University of Washington's quarterback. Scholoredt was presented with a presidential citation for "achieving athletic greatness despite a physical handicap." He is almost blind in one eye due to an injury caused by an exploding firecracker during childhood.

We have a nomination of our own for the citation. He is Larry Marett, former three letter man for the Majors, who is currently serving on the coaching staff of the College.

Marett, one of the most versatile athletes in Millsaps history, lost the sight of one eye because of an accident when he was in the second grade. A natural athlete, he took this misfortune in stride.

By the time Marett reached the 8th grade his ability in several sports was evident. In the 9th grade he participated in football, baseball, and basketball. During his senior year at Sardis High School, he received the award given to the most outstanding athlete. His career at Northwest Junior College gave indication of things to come at Millsaps. As a T-formation quarterback, a guard on the basketball team, and a pitcher on the baseball squad, Marett made a name for himself in junior college circles.

At Millsaps, Marett's career as an athlete was matched by his achievements as a student. He majored in chemistry and made outstanding grades. He was elected president of his senior class. Student leaders tapped him into Omicron Delta Kappa and the faculty named him to Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges.

During the two years he attended Millsaps Marett received six letters. He was the number one quarterback on the football team, despite an academic schedule which made it necessary for him to miss practice sessions. He was the high scorer his senior year in basketball and was a first-line pitcher for the baseball team.

In recognition of his superior ability in athletics at the climax of his college career he received the Harvey T. Newell Award given to the most valuable player on and off the field. He was named the most valuable player on the basketball squad.

Larry Marett has lived up to the highest standards of intercollegiate athletics. He was outstanding as a scholar, as a player, and as a leader of men.

He is totally blind in one eye.

We nominate Larry Marett for a presidential citation.

ESPECIALLY FOR YOU

This year the "M" Club has been reorganized and strengthened and is well on its way toward becoming, once again, an important part of the campus student organizational structure.

One of the projects of the "M" Club is to follow through on the plan, inaugurated many years ago, to give every athlete a lifetime pass to all Millsaps College athletic events. The Club also hopes to compile an accurate roster of all of the men who participated in athletics at Millsaps and who lettered in any sport.

Will you help the boys by completing the form outlined below and mailing it today? You will receive your lifetime pass within the next few weeks, if you do.
